

Definition of Membership Type:

Membership Type	Explanation of IACDE "BY-LAWS" 1.01.2010	Additional Explanation	international Fee
I. Pattern Design /Technical Design / Technical Engineering Member	A person who holds an active position as a pattern designer / technical designer / technical Engineer of apparel related Products.	This includes also all person on management level with corresponding education who are not working anymore as part of the operational business.	...
II. Executive Member	Executives of the apparel manufacturing and related industries, executives of retail firms and related organizations, educators and members of other institutions serving apparel and related industries.	This includes all Executives of before mentioned industries, retail firms, organizations and institutions without education and experience in Pattern Design, Technical Design and Technical Engineering.	...
III. Supplier Member	Suppliers of goods or services to the apparel industry.		...
IV. Retired Member	Members who have retired from full time employment in the apparel industry.
V. Honorary Member	Individuals who have made outstanding contributions to the apparel industry and/or to the Association may be nominated for Honorary Membership in the Association by the Executive Committee. Honorary Membership requires the unanimous approval of the EXECOM, or a 2/3 vote of the General Assembly